दवाओं इत्यादि के प्रयोग से मानव स्वास्थ्य व वन्य प्राणियों को होने वाली हानि से सम्बन्धित प्रकाशित साहित्य का अध्ययन करके निम्नलिखित विषयों पर अपनी सिफारिशें देनी थीं :

(क) यह कि किसी विशेष नाशिकीट-दवा का प्रयोग पूर्णतः बंद कर दिया जाए अथवा किन्हीं विशेष कार्यों एवं निर्धारित परिस्थितियों में उसके प्रयोग की अनुमति दी जाए ।

(ख) उपरोक्त (क) सिफारिशों की दृष्टि में कीट नाशक दवाओं के निर्माण तथा आयात के लिए भविष्य में क्या कार्यक्रम होना चाहिए ।

(ग) और यदि कीटनाशक दवाओं के प्रयोग पर प्रतिबन्ध लगाना आवश्यक हो तो ऐसी परिस्थिति में कीड़ों तथा नाशिकीटों द्वारा की गई हानि को कम करने के लिए जैविक नियन्त्रण पर अनुसंधान को तीव्रतर करने जैसे और कौन-कौन से अन्य कदम उठाये जायें।

APPENDIX A

WAGE BOARD FOR ROAD TRANSPORT INDUSTRY

INTERIM RELIEF

The Central Wage Board for Road Transport Industry was constituted on 28th May, 1966, vide Resolution No. WB-14(1)/64 consisting of :—

Shri P. P. R. Sawhny	Chairman
Shri R. P. N. Sinha	Independent Member
*Dr B. M. Bhatia	Independent Member
Shri D. B. Kamble	Member representing Employers
Shri P. N. Nagaswamy	Member representing Employers
Shri V. V. Nene	Member representing Workers
Shri K. M. Sundaram	Member representing Workers
Shri Teja Singh Sahni	Member-Secretary

2. The terms of reference of the Board were—

(a) to determine the categories of employees (manual clerical, supervisory etc.) who should be brought within the scope of the proposed wage fixation;

(b) to work out a wage structure based on the principle of fair wages as set forth in the Report of the Committee on Fair Wages; and

@(c) to evolve a Gratuity Scheme for the industry.

Explanation.—In evolving a wage structure, the Board will take into account, in addition to the consideration relating to fair wages,

(i) the needs of the industry in a developing economy including the need for maintaining and promoting exports;

(ii) the requirements of social justice;

(iii) the need for adjusting wage differentials in a such manner as to provide incentive to workers for advancing their skill;

(iv) the special features of the road transport industry, and

*Appointed vide Resolution No. WB-7(5)/66 dated the 21st September, 1966 in place of Prof. D. V. Ramana.

Appointed vide Resolution No. WB-14(1)/64 dated the 7th September, 1966.

@Included in the terms of reference vide Resolution No. WB-15(5)/66 dated the 7th September, 1966.

(v) the desirability of extending the system of payment by results.

Explanation.—In applying the system of payment by results, the Board shall keep in view the need for fixing a minimum (fall-back wage) and also to safeguard against over-work and undue speed.

The coverage of the Wage Board will be restricted to establishments employing 5 or more workers.

3. The coverage of the Wage Board was originally restricted to the establishments employing 20 or more workers. The Board recommended to the Government that the limit of 20 workers in the terms of reference be eliminated as otherwise the very purpose for which the Board had been constituted would frustrated in as much as a very large number of workers will be left out of consideration by the Board at the time when the recommendations for fair wage structure would be made. Consequently, the Government of India extended the coverage of the Wage Board from establishments employing 20 or more workers to establishments employing 5 or more workers vide Resolution No. WB-14(3)/66 dated the 27th January, 1967.

4. The Ministry of Labour, Employment and Rehabilitation vide its letter dated the 18th July 1966 informed the Board that though the question of interim relief had not been specifically mentioned in the terms of reference of the Wage Board, demands in this regard, if any, could be considered by the Board on merits.

5. The workers' unions/associations were requested to send their claims, if any and justification therefor for the grant of interim relief and the same when received were forwarded to the employers for their comments. The parties were also requested to intimate if they wished to be personally heard on the subject and as many as 146 were given public hearing in Delhi, Chandigarh, Madurai, Bangalore, Calcutta, Bombay and Lucknow.

6. The parties which appeared before the Board not only made oral statements but also produced a large number of documents on which they placed reliance.

7. The subject of interim relief is a very complicated one involving consideration of complex factors, particularly, those relating to diversity of wages in the industry and regional differences. It was for all these reasons that the Board adopted the procedure of giving public hearings so as to facilitate the interested parties to explain their view points on different aspects of the problem. The deliberations of the Wage Board, while considering the question of grant of interim relief have been based on numerous representations received from the employee's organisations and the comments offered thereon by the employers' organisations. The public utility character of the Industry has throughout been given full consideration by the Board in its deliberations.

8. The guiding principles of the following recommendations is to give relief to those who are considered to be most needy. Accordingly the Board in making its recommendations has drawn up certain norms of emoluments for different categories of workers in the Road Transport Industry and recommends the following relief category-wise :—

I. That for the purpose of 'interim relief', employees be divided into 6 broad categories with minimum total monthy wages noted against each category as given below :—

Broad category	Minimum monthly total wages	Maximum interim relief per month
I	II	III
1. Unskilled	Rs. 100/- p.m.	Rs. 25/-
2. Semi-skilled	Rs. 120/- p.m.	Rs. 12.50/-
3. Skilled	Rs. 135/- p.m.	Rs. 12.50/-
4. Highly skilled	Rs. 150/- p.m.	Rs. 12.50/-
5. Junior Supervisory	Rs. 175/- p.m.	Rs. 10/-
6. Senior Supervisory	Rs. 200/- p.m.	Rs. 10/-

II. That the difference between the emoluments recommended above and actual emoluments drawn by the workers in each category at present shall be made good by way of grant of interim relief subject to the condition that maximum quantum of relief shall be as indicated in Column III of table in para 8(I) above.

The various sub-categories comprised under each of the above broad categories are listed out in Appendix 'B'.

III. That those who are already getting either the minimum or more than that as indicated in Column II of table in para 8(I) above shall not be entitled to interim relief.

IV. That 'wages' referred to above will have the same connotation as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 under Section 2(rr) which is reproduced below :—

"wages" means all remuneration capable of being expressed in terms of money, which would, if the terms of employment expressed or implied, were fulfilled, be payable to a workman in respect of his employment or of work done in such employment, and include—

(i) such allowances (including dearness allowance) as the workman is for the time being entitled to;

(ii) the value of any house accommodation, or of supply of light, water, medical attendance or other amenity or of any service or of any concessional supply of foodgrains or other articles;

(iii) any travelling concessions but does not include—

(a) any bonus;

(b) any contribution paid or payable by the employer to any pension fund or provident fund or for the benefit of the workman under any law for the time being in force;

(c) any gratuity payable on the termination of his service;"

V. That the interim relief that is being recommended shall not count for bonus, provident fund, gratuity, incentive payments, E.S.I. contribution and other allowances for the present but it shall be taken into account while computing wages for leave with pay, paid holidays, overtime.

VI. That the recommendation in this behalf shall be treated as a separate item till the final recommendations are made, that is to say, it be specified separately and shall be without prejudice to the final recommendations.

VII. That where under the provisions of any settlement, award or agreement between the employers and employees in the Road Transport Industry a worker is already entitled to a relief which is more favourable to him than interim relief recommended by the Board the workman shall continue to be entitled to the more favourable relief in this respect.

VIII. That if any employee be in receipt of higher relief having been given by the employers than what is being recommended by the Board, he would not be entitled to the interim relief recommended by the Board, but this recommendation about the interim relief shall not adversely affect such higher quantum of relief which would remain undisturbed.

IX. That this scheme of interim relief shall be effective from 1st June, 1967.

X. That the payment of arrears that may become due to the workers as a result of these recommendations shall be payable in one or more instalments by mutual agreement between the employers concerned and the employees.

APPENDIX C

MINUTE OF DISSENT BY SHRI K. M. SUNDARAM

I regret my inability to subscribe to the proposals on interim relief made by my colleagues for the following reasons :

(1) The Central Wage Board for Road Transport Industry was appointed 15 months ago and during this period, the Board has had extensive tours of the country to botain information at first hand on the wage situation and the wage demands of the workers. The Board has also before it the reports, both of a final and interim nature, submitted by other Wage Boards in the various organised industries.

(2) It is also the sad experience of the workers in the road transport industry that following the appointment of the Board, the employers in both public and private sectors, have refused to consider legitimate wage demands on the pretext that the Wage Board is expected to award the necessary wage increases. In fact, even legitimate D.A. revision was denied to large sections of workers on the ground that the Wage Board was allegedly looking into this aspect of the workers' demands. This was so in the case of the workers in the Andhra Pradesh public sector transport undertaking and in protest against the denial of D.A. which was paid to other State Government employees, the workers led both by AITUC and INTUC affiliates had recently gone on a prolonged general strike. Such a serious situation requires that the interim recommendations of the Central Wage Board for Road Transport Industry should take into account these actual realities and give specific recommendations if the legitimate wage demands are to be met and industrial tension avoided. It is unfortunate that the recommendations made by my colleagues do not meet precisely this need and moreover workers whose wage demands are pending in large sectors, would get practically no relief at all.

(3) From the facts available to the Board, it is clear that problems of wage revision in tht industry cannot be resolved, even on an interim basis, by merely fixing a national minimum for the relatively less organised sector of the industry, covered by statutory minimum wage fixation. This is only one aspect of the problem, although a most important aspect. In this case, however, the proposed minimum of Rs. 100 per month in the industry recommended by my other colleagues falls far short of the existing industrial wage levels, determined by recommendations of other Wage Boards. It is far less than the wage levels in the railway transport industry with which the road transport industry is said to be offering stiff competition, not to speak of the higher levels in the ports and docks following the two interim reliefs recommended by the Wage Board in the sector, over and above the Central Government rates of pay and D.A. I am therefore of the firm opinion that a national minimum of an interim nature should be at least Rs. 120 per month with a minimum benefit of Rs. 30 per month.

(4) It is admitted by all that the gap between the existing wages and the need-based wages is widening at an alarming pace, primarily due to the progressive fall in real wage standards as a consequence of the current steep rise in prices. It is also established on record that only in a few units there is any system of automatic adjustment of D.A. linked with the consumer price indices. The ad hoc D.A. reliefs paid in certain units specially in the public sector, have not provided full neturalisation of the rise in prices. In a wide field, in the private sector particularly fixed, consolidated wages prevail and there is no linking with the price index. Thus, in all these cases, the fall in the real wage standards has been most severe and consequently, the need for relief universal. Therefore, it cannot be, as is assumed by my other colleagues, that the trend of fall in real wages and the need for relief is limited to sectors largely covered by statutory minimum wage fixation (and as is well known, these minimum wages are notoriously sub-standard and fixed years ago when prices were not that high and not revised since in most cases) but the entire organised sector of the industry has an anarchic wage system which requires immediate, drastic rectification and revision. There can therefore be no justice or fair play in denying interim relief to bulk of the organised sector of the industry as is the apparent logic which runs through the recommendations of my other colleagues.

(5) To remedy this situation and to give a fair consideration to the demands of the workers for relief, it is therefore essential that apart from fixing a national minimum for the industry at Rs. 120, appropriate reliefs are given to all categories of workers to be adjusted against the final recommendations of the Board. Such a relief should be a minimum of Rs. 30 per month, at a flat rate for all categories of workers covered by this Wage Board. This is all he more necessary insofar as the Board's main questionaire has been issued only very recently and the Board would take a year or two more to formulate its final report. The interim relief should therefore help to mitigate the hardships the workers will encounter in the intervening period.

(6) Our Board's interim recommendations should also specify that (i) the D.A. formula hitherto followed, unit or region-industrywise, etc. by award, agreement, convention or practice, should continue to operate in all cases; and (ii) where there is no linking of D.A. with the consumer price index, such liking should immediately be established at unit, regional or State level, by collective agreement or through other industrial relations processes. This specific recommendation is necessary, firstly, because it is found that such D.A. revision is denied on the ground that the Wage Board is looking into the wage demands, and, secondly, because only by linking D.A. to local C.P. Index numbers can adequate relief be provided to the workers in a situation of rapid rise in prices. It would be a grave injustice to the workers if they are asked to wait for a still longer period to obtain a fair D.A. linking formula on an industrywise basis in the final report of the Board. In fact, by reaching local level collective agreements to meet the immediate exigencies on this question, the Board's work to rationalise the wage structure would be made less hazardous.

In this connection, mention may be made of the interim reports of the Central Wage Board for Ports and Docks which recommended, inter alia, quite specifically, that apart from the recommended interim reliefs, the port and dock workers should continue to get Central Government rates of D.A. until the Board may recommend in its final report a separate D.A. linking formula. I am therefore at a lost to understand the reluctance of my colleagues to make a similar recommendation about D.A. revisions for the road transport workers.

(7) It is also most regrettable that far from appreciating the real issues relating to wage demands of the road transport workers my other colleagues have chonse to fix the skill differential on minimum wage in their scheme of interim relief, without having had any expert guidance or discussion on what equitable differential ratios in this particular industry should be. Thus the recommendations of my colleagues appear to be based wholly on unrealistic premises and I am therefore compelled to place on record my alternative proposals as given in the foregoing paragraphs. I have to state that I am opposed to fixing category or craft-wise minimum wages at this stage of recommending interim relief and I feel that this should be taken up only at the time of evolving the final wage structure, when the complicated question of fixing wage differentials can be dealt with in great detail.

(8) The interim relief should be paid with retrospective effect from 1-1-1967 and I am therefore opposed to the recommendations of my other colleagues fixing this date as 1-6-1967.

APPENDIX D

NOTE OF DISSENT BY SHRI V. V. NENE TO THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE WAGE BOARD

I give below my note of dissent.

1. I had given my suggestions to the members of the Wage Board, which were discussed by the Board in its sittings at Delhi from 25th to 28th September, 1967. While in discussions, I gave in on some points, so that the recommendations of the Wage Board should be unanimous. But in the end it was found that the recommendations could not be unanimous. I decided not to sign the recommendations but send the note of dissent.

2. My recommendations in respect of the interim relief are given in annexures 'A' and 'B' herewith.

3. The note should be sent to the Central Government.
